Jeanne d Arc and France

One day, I want to attempt a story like this once.

Russia and his boss invades France

And France will be beaten up (— ゜)

Then Germany gets beaten up by France and ends up hospitalized for a long time (laugh)

(T/N: Thanks to shinopino for the corrections!)

By the way I pondered if I should use the actual people in Hetalia but I decided to use vague expressions such as "boss" or "that girl" (— *)

Countries and people are somehow co-existing

Now that I think about it until Napoleon mentioned about Jeanne d Arc, he totally forgot about her Bad guy—

↑ England somehow always ends up with the role as a villain In the movies and novels related to Jeanne d Arc he is treated like a demon In movies villains are usually played by the Brits

Un Do your best, England
